

With the autumn/winter collections the hottest topic of the moment, sophisticated girls will be making a date with London Fashion Weekend on 23-26 September. This is the place to see the season's key trends and must-haves in motion - while taking a little indulgent time out from the hectic shopping schedule in the Häagen-Dazs Designer Café and Bar.

So what's in store? Think ladylike, layers and luxury: we're talking tactile natural fabrics (chiffon, silk, cashmere, tweed and fur), an earthy and sophisticated palette of chocolate, cream, bronze and beige plus some opulent finishing touches. Layers of cleverly teamed textures and subtle colours are key to a look that's grown-up and deliciously chic.

But what, you ask, is the ultimate accessory? Enter Cream Crisp, the latest addition to Häagen-Dazs's much-loved collection of luxury ice creams. This hand-held ice cream perfection takes the sartorial themes of the moment and translates them into two ultra-creamy, smooth-textured and richly flavoured sensations: Vanilla and Caramel. The former features vanilla ice cream covered in rich, sensuous chocolate, while the latter is caramel ice cream wrapped in smooth caramel. Both are sealed in a crisp wafer and neither can be rushed (this is, after all, a moment to be savoured).

Indulge at London Fashion Weekend, 23-26 September, Duke of York's Square, Kings Road, London SW3. Cream Crisp will be available at Häagen-Dazs Designer Café and Bar and premium grocers, including Harrods and Harvey Nichols.

going up

Cocooning with chums

Cream Crisps

Central heating: lots of it

Beaches - brrrr!

Baring flesh

Barbecued anything

going down

she's gotta
have it

Discover the latest in design with London Fashion Week and Häagen-Dazs Cream Crisp

