

Pure chocolate

As a fan of new trends, it's no wonder that Coleen has fallen for the new LG Chocolate phone

It's hard to choose a mobile phone when you're a style aficionado. Handsets that are touted as fashionable look too fancy, while high-tech designs are over complicated.

Which is why we love the LG Chocolate phone. It looks good and is easy to use, simple as that. No fuss, no fancy bits, just sleek and minimal in design with an operating system that makes perfect sense.

The black sliding front reveals a hidden LCD and keypad that illuminates red when in use and it's the first ever mobile phone to have a touch-sensitive keypad.

At only 15mm wide and 83g in weight it's hard to believe the LG Chocolate phone also features all the necessities such as camera, video and an MP3 player.

Available now.

For more information go to www.lge.com

"Having the LG Chocolate phone works as an accessory for any outfit. It's unique, sleek and the exactly the right size to pop into any handbag for any occasion."

Coleen McLoughlin

Life's Good